

June 4, 1941.

Mr. D. Burroughs,
209 West 125th Street,
New York City.

Dear Sir:

Mr. Manley has just told me of his conversation with you on the telephone. You requested a copy of a letter which I am enclosing, it is from our local State Parole Officer.

I have also had verbal assurance from Rev. Van Pelt, who is New Jersey's State Prison Chaplain and Supervisor of boys from Reform Schools of New Jersey, that he will be very glad to co-operate to the fullest extent. He has asked me to write him all the facts in the case so that he can answer me through the mail, but I am postponing making this move, as I have asked you to take care of the matter for me.

Mr. Manley tells me you also requested him to forward you a written assurance that he will furnish employment for the boy. As I told you, we have given the boy a contract for $150.00 a month for the length of the baseball season, and will assure^{we} we will find him employment at the close of that time.

I hope this is all the information necessary for you to go ahead and have the boy transferred into our custody. Please accept my sincere thanks for your co-operation. I will look forward to seeing you Sunday in New York at the ball game, if not before.

Very truly yours,
